Who are we?

IFATCA was founded in 1961 by air traffic controllers from twelve European countries. It has since grown to 133 Member Associations and represents more than fifty thousand air traffic controllers world-wide.

Today the International Federation of Air Traffic Controllers' Associations (IFATCA) is well represented in international forums involving

- International Civil Aviation Organization (ICAO),
- Eurocontrol,
- European Union (EU),
- International Labour Office (ILO),
- International Federation of Air Line Pilots' Associations (IFALPA),
- International Air Transport Association (IATA)
- CANSO, IFATSEA and others.

IFATCA believes that sufficient resources should be directed towards establishing robust and independent safety regulation at national, regional and global levels to encompass ATM equipment, procedures and personnel.

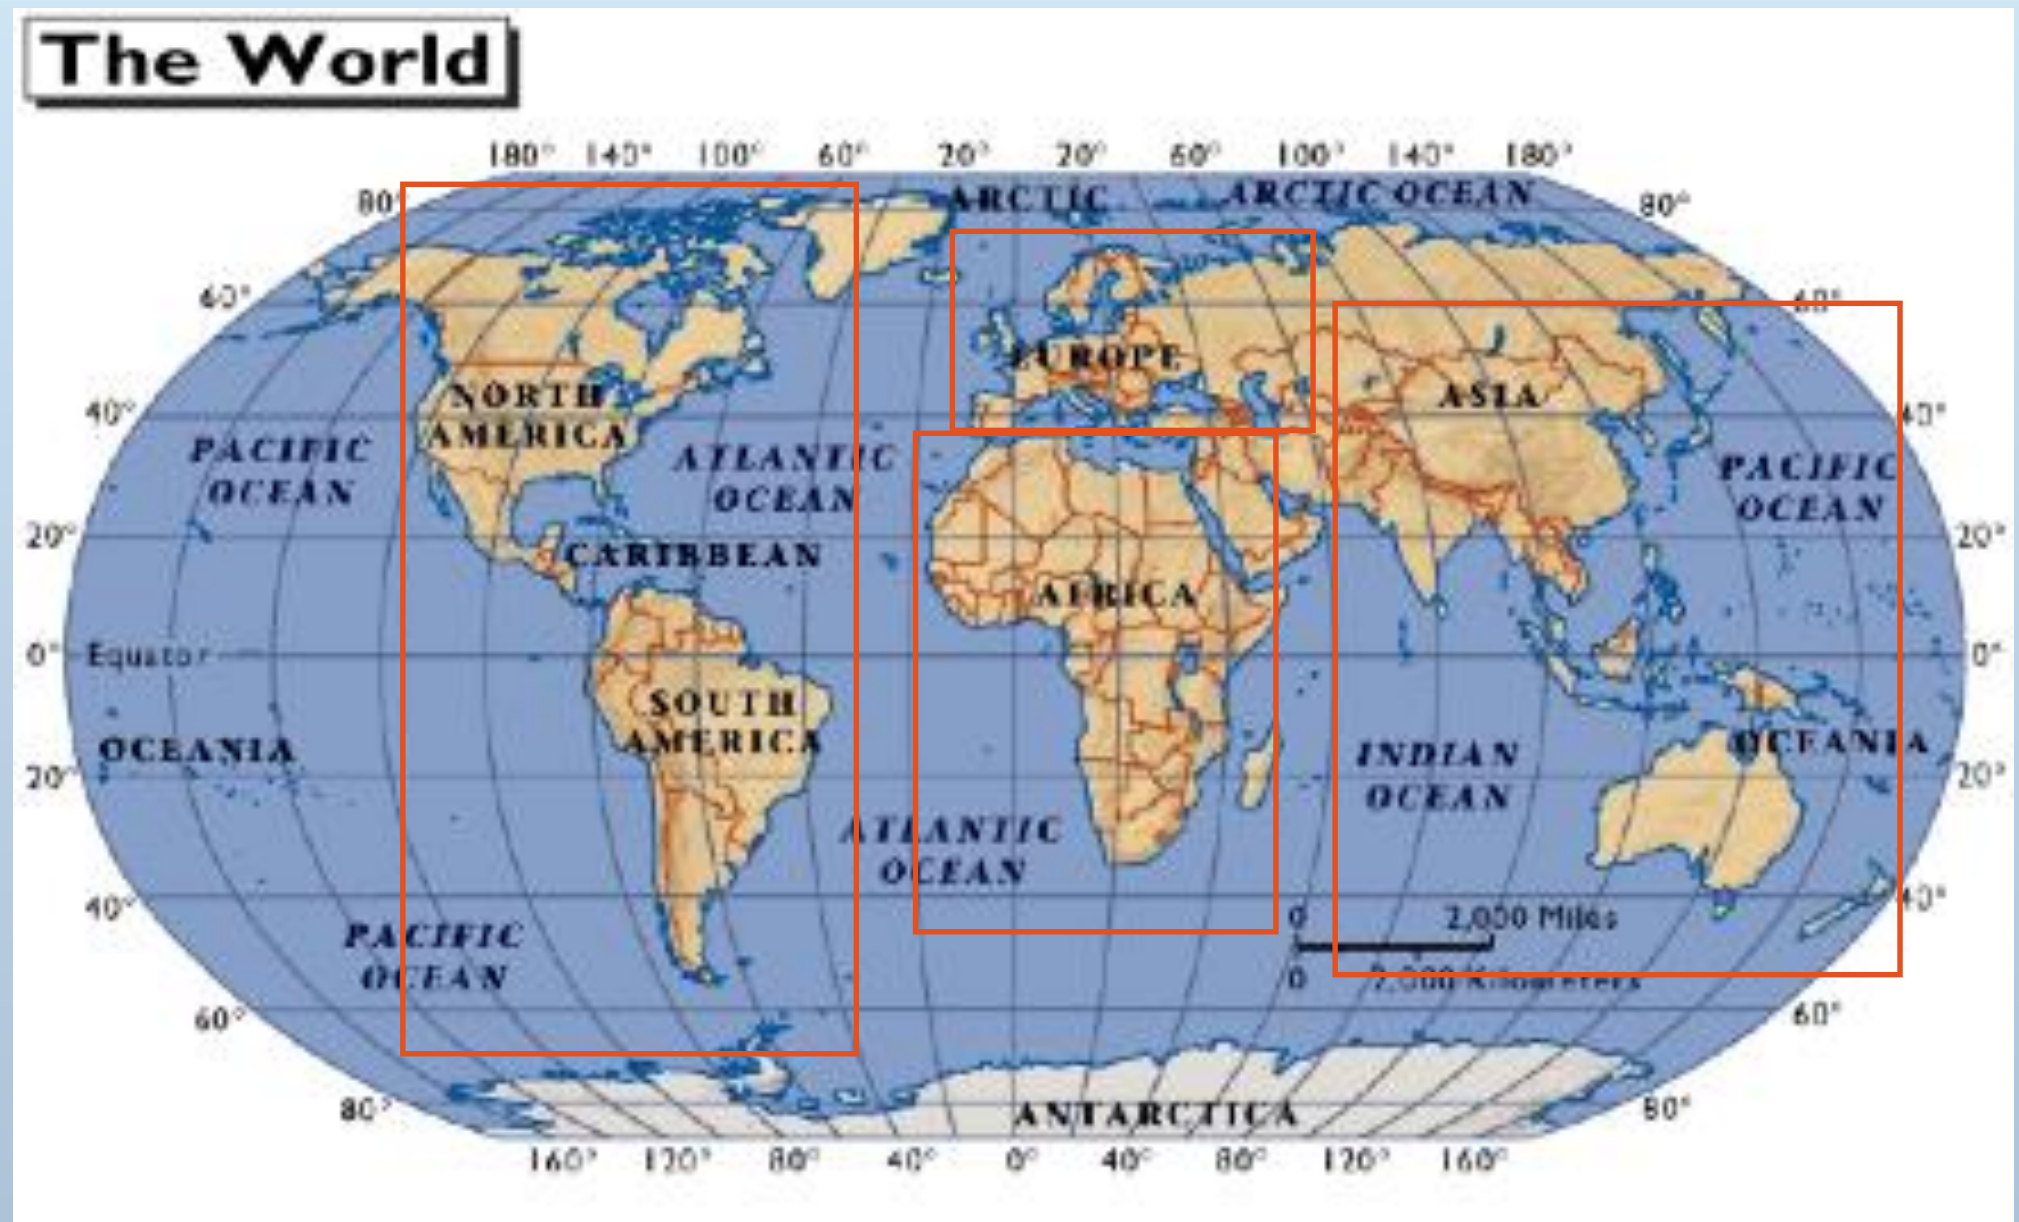

It has been IFATCA's experience that our general policy, particularly in the technical field, cannot always be uniformly implemented throughout all regions of the world. To meet these requirements four regions were formed:

- Africa and Middle East (AFM),
- The Americas (AMA),
- Asia and Pacific (ASP),
- Europe (EUR).
