

POLICY BOOK

November 2025

FOREWORD

POLICY BOOK

- a. This Policy Book supersedes any previous Policy Book (previously Policy Manual) issued by the Association.
- b. The activities of CATCA/Unifor Local 5454 are first and foremost governed by its By- law.
- c. Within the provisions of the Union Bylaw and this policy book, the governing body of the Association, i.e. the Executive Board, applies specific policies as directed by the National Convention or as established by a national referendum, and formulates policy where none exists, covering both the internal workings of the Association and its relationship with the Employer and other organizations.
- d. It is worth noting that the Convention is supreme only when it is in session. A Convention resolution can be reversed by a referendum ballot. By the same token, a referendum decision can be overturned by the Convention delegates. However, it is unlikely that the Convention would act contrary to the will of the membership as expressed in a referendum except on the basis of significantly altered circumstances or the passage of a considerable period of time since the referendum ballot was held.
- e. Such policy decisions are recorded in the minutes of the National Convention or of meetings of the Executive Board, from which the material for this Policy Book has been extracted.
- f. The compilation and amendment of the Policy Book is the responsibility of the National Executive.
- g. The Policy Book is available online at catca.ca.

FORMAT

- a. Where policies are attributable to convention resolutions, referendum votes, Special General Meeting votes or Board resolutions, they are indicated as such in brackets following the appropriate paragraph(s).
- b. All policy changes made by the Executive Board since the last edition of the Policy Book are identified in the Revisions-Updates page(s) and marked appropriately within the manual (June 2002)
- c. The original issue of the Policy Book (Manual) was 1975.

SECTION I: ADMINISTRATION

General

A Balloting Committee (the scrutineers) consisting of three persons holding no affiliation, past or present, to the Union or Air Traffic Control, will be retained by the Union to be available on-site at any time the Convention is in session. The scrutineers shall be responsible for the conduct of all secret ballots at a Convention.

Secret ballots will be held when a resolution calling for a secret ballot on a particular vote is passed by the Convention.

Any fees and/or expenses incurred in the course of operation of this Committee shall be the responsibility of the National Office. The Executive Vice President/ alternate, as the Union official responsible for the conduct of voting, shall be responsible for appointing the members of this Committee.

Ballots

For all votes, blank ballots will be prepared and available on which the words "In Favour", "Against", and "Abstain" shall be printed. Prior to voting commencing each ballot will also have printed on it a number identical to the identification number assigned to the Convention resolution on which the vote is being conducted.

All ballots shall be printed on paper bearing a perforated margin which will allow them to be bound and subsequently readily detached from their binding via the perforation.

Procedure

When a Convention resolution has properly been referred to a secret ballot, all Convention delegates shall report to the location established for voting within the time limits specified for same by the Executive Vice President or alternate.

Each delegate will identify himself to the appropriate Balloting Officer at that location and will thereupon be issued with the same number of ballots as votes he has earlier been identified as having assigned to him in accordance with Article 10.1.

Prior to handing ballots over to any voter, the scrutineer will bind all ballots assigned to that voter, via the perforated stub of the ballots, between ballot covers provided for that purpose. This assembly shall be known as a ballot book. The number of ballots contained in a ballot book shall be prominently marked on the cover of each ballot book at its time of binding by a member of the Balloting Committee.

It is the responsibility of each voter to ensure that his/her ballot book contains the number of ballots specified on its cover. Each delegate will sign a Voters List acknowledging receipt of his/her ballots and their correctness as to number.

Each delegate must mark all ballots assigned to them in the same manner (i.e. In Favour, Against, or Abstain for business matters), but only for the particular vote in progress. If a second or subsequent ballot is called on any question a delegate may, at their option, mark their ballots in a different manner than they did on the preceding ballot, however all ballots assigned to them must be marked in the same manner.

Important Note:

Where any voter has been assigned more than one vote on any ballot and selects varying choices on the ballots assigned to them for the vote in progress, all votes cast by that voter on the ballot in progress shall be declared spoiled ballots.

Polling booth(s) shall be provided for the privacy of the voters to mark their ballots.

Once each voter has marked their ballot they will proceed to the ballot box and present their ballots, with ballot covers intact, to a member of the Balloting Committee.

The member of the Balloting Committee assigned to the ballot box will receive each voter's ballot book, ensure that the ballot covers are intact, and upon being satisfied of same deposit the entire ballot book into the ballot box in the presence of the voter.

Any ballot books presented to the Committee member that are not intact will not be deposited into the ballot box. It will be the responsibility of the voter to return to the balloting desk, return their spoiled ballot book, and receive a new balloting book, as appropriate, in accordance with the preceding rules of this section.

At the time fixed for the close of balloting, or earlier if all voters have cast their ballots, the members of the Balloting Committee will retire to a private room with no other persons present to proceed to count the vote.

10.5 Vote Counting

1. Upon first opening the ballot box the members of the Balloting Committee will examine each ballot book and ensure that:
 - a. each ballot book contains the number of ballots specified on its cover, and
 - b. all ballots in each ballot book are marked in the same manner.
2. Any ballot book containing an inappropriate number of ballots as compared to the number specified on the cover of the book, and any ballot book not having all ballots marked in the same manner, shall be set aside by the Balloting Committee to be indicated in their final tally as spoiled ballots. The count of spoiled ballots shall be one for each ballot that either is, or should have been, in each ballot book that was invalidated.
3. Upon completion of the validation of ballot books described above, the Balloting Committee shall separate, via the perforations, all ballots from valid ballot books only and ensure that there is no further union between the stubs and covers of these ballot books, and the ballots that were heretofore attached.

SECTION I: ADMINISTRATION

4. After the separation of the valid ballots from the ballot books, the Balloting Committee shall proceed to tabulate the results of the vote. Upon completion of its tabulation the Balloting Committee shall provide the Executive Vice President/alternate with written certification detailing:
 - a. the number of delegates who voted;
 - b. the number of ballots cast;
 - c. In Favour, Against, Abstaining, in respect of the question under ballot, or;

These late resolutions must have been passed at a Board Meeting or a Branch/Facility Meeting, or a Branch Council Meeting.

This does not apply to CATCA Staff or members in their personal use of social media platforms where the staff or member makes no reference to CATCA/Unifor Local 5454.

The Union shall make no public comment on the acceptability of a proposed settlement until the results of the ratification vote are made known. (Conv. 1999)

2.2 Public Statements - Guidelines

The following guidelines are meant to be used primarily during contract negotiations when time or circumstances may not permit consulting the Executive, but will also apply whenever such consultation, for whatever reason, is impossible.

- a. Guidelines for National Executive - The National Executive will:
 - Issue press releases;
 - Make official union statements on matters of national scope;
 - Be available for interviews by the national media;
 - Participate in nation-wide phone-in and talk shows;

- Handle Ottawa-area media relations, as required, after consultation with the headquarters regional vice president and the Branches/facilities concerned;
 - Forward to Regional Vice Presidents and Branches/facilities, if required, information on facts and policies of the union for regional and/or local publicizing;
 - After consultation, grant authority to Regional Vice Presidents to act as spokesmen for the union on certain specific matters.

- Make statements on regional issues to regional media;
 - Participate in regional phone-in and talk shows;
 - Grant interviews to regional media;
 - Relay to regional media information received from the national executive;
- c. Guidelines for Branches/Facilities - Branch Executives/Facility Stewards will always consult with their respective Regional Vice President first, and then:
- Grant interviews to local media, dealing strictly with facts; and
 - Relay information to the local media as required by their respective regional vice president.

Always — but particularly during periods of stress — remember that only the Union President and Vice Presidents are the official spokesmen for CATCA. As employees of NAV Canada / SERCO / federal public servants, you are open to disciplinary action by the Employer if you make any statement that is critical of NAV Canada / Government policies, practices, or actions.

When being interviewed or as a guest on a radio or TV show, remember to stick to facts and maintain a business-like approach. Hosts of talk and phone-in shows are paid to make their shows interesting and will often attempt to induce their guests to make controversial statements.

Be aware of this fact. Don't let your temper flare up. Make no rash statements or threats. Don't answer insulting or irrational calls or questions in the same manner; remain calm, factual and, if possible, polite.

Any funds advanced shall be reimbursed to the Union directly from any monies owed the member from the special levy fund. (April 2002)

4.4 Contract Proposals

For the purposes of contract proposals, a Branch may establish a policy permitting the Branch Council meeting to act in the place of a Branch meeting. (Fall 1986)

4.5 Separate Bargaining Tables

CATCA will undertake to negotiate its collective agreements at separate bargaining tables based on bargaining units. (Conv. 1993)

SECTION V: COLLECTIVE BARGAINING

4.6 Communication with the Employer

The Board will make every effort to ensure that members do not communicate directly with the employer with respect to matters relating to collective bargaining. (December 5-6, 1998)

SECTION VI: IFATCA

SECTION VI: IFATCA

1. GENERAL

1.1 IFATCA Formation

The International Federation of Air Traffic Controllers' Associations (IFATCA) was established on October 20, 1961 in Amsterdam.

CATCA joined IFATCA on April 2, 1964.

Canada is a member union within the Americas region.

Information on IFATCA policies can be found on their web site at ifatca.org.

1.2 Standing Committees

The four Standing Committees (SC) are:

- a. TOC - Technical and Operational Matters in ATC
- b. FIC - Finance
- c. PLC - Professional Matters in ATC
- d. CAC - Constitution and Administrative Matters in ATC

1.3 IFATCA Conferences

The maximum number of the official delegates is limited to four (Conv. 1987). Be it resolved that CATCA National send a minimum of three (3) representatives to the annual IFATCA conference so that meetings for all three (3) committees (A – Administration, B – Technical, C – Professional) are attended by official CATCA representatives (Conv. 2007)

Normally, the Union will send four delegates to the annual Conference. The President, or his/her designate, and the IFATCA Liaison Officer will automatically be included on the delegation. CATCA representatives on IFATCA Standing Committees will be given priority in filling other delegate positions. Members of the Executive Board, members of local executives or committee members may fill any remaining positions if deemed appropriate. (Conv. 1997, 2025).

In the eventuality that it is impractical to send Delegates as listed above, the Executive Board will, by majority vote, appoint delegates to attend and at least one, if not more have held a regional or National elected position in the past (Conv 2010).

1.4 Membership Benefit to CATCA

Canada is a member of the International Civil Aviation Organization (ICAO). ICAO develops ATC procedures and operating practices, which are adhered to by member states. As a result, many of our ATC procedures and operating practices are developed by ICAO.

SECTION VI: IFATCA

Through IFATCA, CATCA has an opportunity to influence decisions that are made at ICAO and the International Labour Organization (ILO) in matters that can have a direct impact on how we provide air traffic control service and our working conditions. These international organizations do not acknowledge national organizations, only international organizations.

Contacts through IFATCA, both at conferences and during the everyday operations of CATCA/Unifor Local 5454, allow the Executive Board to stay abreast of changing technologies and working conditions in air traffic control around the world.

CATCA has the opportunity to assist member associations at improving their ATC system and working conditions.

2. TERMS OF REFERENCE

2.1 Assignment of Position
